

Frequently Asked Questions

What does JROTC stand for?

JROTC stands for “Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps”. Its goal is to educate high school students in leadership roles while making them aware of the benefits of citizenship.

If I join JROTC, do I have to enlist in the military?

Absolutely not. JROTC is not a recruiting service. The people who do choose to go into the armed forces do receive benefits.

Do I have to wear the uniform?

Cadets wear the uniform once a week. It will either be the dress blue uniform or the BDU, which is the camouflage uniform.

What are the benefits of JROTC?

Homework help, job preparation, life skills, aerospace education, and community service. Additionally, those who pursue military careers get a pay raise.

Why should I join?

If you're looking for a fun, enriching experience, JROTC is for you. Be apart of something bigger than you could imagine.

What special teams are offered?

Drill Team, Color Guard, Rifle Team, Chorus and Drum Corps, and PT Team.

Where do I sign up?

If you want to join, talk to any JROTC cadet or stop by the JROTC classroom for more information.

CROSS INTO THE BLUE

Be apart of something bigger than yourself.

When you wear the dress blues, you separate yourself from your peers. You stand out to your teachers and the people in your community. The uniform that AFJROTC cadets wear is the same uniform that active duty airmen all across the world wear every day while protecting our country. By wearing the uniform, you honor those who put their lives on the line for us back home.

You can be apart of an organization that traces its roots back to 1916, an organization that is present in all 50 states. Ask a cadet for more information.
