Readings- (3 Total)

Death of a Salesman - Arthur Miller

Fahrenheit 451 - Ray Bradbury

Choose one book of non-fiction that relates to either a global awareness issue or American history. Selections should be age and grade appropriate. One of the best ways to choose a book is to go to the library or bookstore and flip through what strikes your interest! Your selection should be at least 150 pages of standard text size.

Please e-mail me a letter of introduction by May 10th. Tell me a little about yourself. What are your hobbies, your favorite book, or band? I will use this introductory email to save into my contacts so I can get in touch with you over the summer. Be sure to check your e-mail at least bi-weekly to see if I have checked in. Please use a g-mail account. You have one through Haywood County Schools, and can access it using the same user name and password that you use to log in to school computers.

Copies of these books may be purchased at any bookstore, or checked out of a library. Blue Ridge Booksellers on Main Street in Waynesville will give a discount if you tell them that the books are for a Summer Reading Assignment at Tuscola.

Prepare to be tested on readings when school begins! If you have read any of these books previously- READ AGAIN!- Trust me on this!
