

You are invited to Hazelwood's Duke
Energy Science Night on Monday, May 2nd from 5:30-7:00 pm.

Science Night is an opportunity for you and your child to explore science together! Hands-on activities will introduce a range of science, technology, engineering, and math topics in a way that is fun and easy to understand. You don't want to miss this chance to learn together and enjoy making magnetic paintings, testing stomp rockets, building zip lines, and much more! Brothers and sisters are also welcome to attend.

When you drop by for Science Night, be sure to visit our Scholastic Book Fair which will be in the library. Food trucks will be in the parking lot so that you can purchase an easy dinner or snack. Feel free to sit in the cafeteria and enjoy your food with your family and friends at any time during the event.

Our school's Duke Energy Science Night is an official event of the North Carolina Science Festival, a month-long celebration of science that occurs every spring.

We look forward to seeing you on May 2nd!
